Kim Mitzo Thompson : Bible Snap Christian 50-Count Game Cards (I'm Learning the Bible Flash Cards) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Bible Snap Christian 50-Count Game Cards (I'm Learning the Bible Flash Cards):

My only complaint is that yes, there are 50 cards two of which are the directions for snap and memory. There are 48 bible verse cards, BUT each verse has four cards. So really you're only getting 12 verses. I felt that was a bit misleading and disappointing but this deck of cards was inexpensive and cute. I think it will be fun to play with my kids and help them to remember some Scripture.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Finally a Bible game my son enjoysBy Melissa and AndrewI purchased this Bible Snap game as a gift from the 'Easter bunny.' I am trying so many ways to get my son interested and have a relationship with God. He is really into games,so I thought this would be a good try. There aren't any words,just pictures but that's fine since he can't read much anyways. I can still explain him what the meanings are. At first it took a game or two for him to get the understanding of saying SNAP when the cards match,but he seems to enjoy it. I am thankful to have found this game,which will at least hopefully condition his mind to have a positive thought about God whenever he sees something similar. This can be for most ages,which is great that it will grow with him,and then we can pass it on to cousins or friends who will enjoy it as much as we have.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful.
