If you like the other boxes of Pathfinder Pawns but found yourself thinking "I wish they gave me more than 4 goblins and 2 orcs", then this box is absolutely for you. Of the standard "mook-type" monsters, this box contains over a dozen of every type. Kobolds, Goblins, Orcs, Hobgoblins, Frost Giants, Fire Giants, Trolls, Ratfolk, Drow, Deurgar, Ogres, Bugbears, and the like. There are 4-8 variations of each type of monster, allowing for wonderfully distinct pawns of a similar race on the map at any given time. No need to remind your players that these goblins have shortbows while these goblins are throwing alchemist's fire. They can see it on the tokens. I can finally attack my party with that Hobgoblin assault force that I've been dreaming up without pulling the particularly brutish NPC Codex pawns and saying "These are hobgoblins, use your imagination". What about that conflict between a tribe of Kobolds and a faction of Goblins? Now you can get your PCs involved and still visually denote which monsters are which! It's so great. As always, the art is absolutely gorgeous on these pawns, and the box and cardboard are the same ultra-high quality. This is hands down my favorite of the Pathfinder Pawns boxes. 7 of 7 people found the following review helpful. ... encounters in my DD 5E campaign and they work wonderfully. I will always prefer the metal figures. By Aspect Use this (and several other Pathfinder Pawns boxes) for combat encounters in my DD 5E campaign and they work wonderfully. I will always prefer the metal figures, but this is a very cost effective way to get a large quantity of pawns made with very nice art. 4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Good quality, low price. By Phantom This product is extremely useful for those wanting miniatures on a budget (it's pennies per pawn). Word of advice: this box does focus on common, humanoid monsters. It is perfect for what it says it is, but one of the bestiary boxes would be better if you wanted a rounded collection. PRO: it has several repeats, so you'll never be short during a goblin ambush or ogre war party. CON: since it is mostly humanoid, you miss out on many animals, vermin, plants, aberrations, and magical beasts.
