A treasure of a book!By Rosalie Grace Heacock ThompsonBeatrice Wood 's wisdom, as she reaches the age of 100, reminds us all of what a great artist can contribute to the world. Highly recommended!15 of 17 people found the following review helpful. Love, Love, Love this book!By Kathrine L.Absolutely stunning, glorious and sensual black and white photos of Beatrice Wood.B. Wood conveys in her photos that life can be lived with enthusiasm and zeal at 100 years old.She inspires me on every level as a woman.A small yet magnificent book.

Internationally renowned as one of the twentieth century's wittiest writers and most original artists, Beatrice Wood at the age of 100 is as energetic, graceful, and inspiring as ever. In a series of duotone portraits made during the last 18 years, Wood's longtime friend, photographer Marlene Wallace, has captured with sensitivity and elegance the essence of this remarkable woman. Including Beatrice Wood's mischievous and penetrating insights into everything from politics to the mysteries of love, Playing Chess with the Heart is a touching tribute to the imagination and open mind of an extraordinary creative spirit.

About the Author Marlene Wallace -- award-winning photographer -- has exhibited her work at such museums as the Smithsonian Museum, the Oakland Museum, and the Santa Barbara Museum of Art. She photographs commercially for a wide array of corporations, among them ATT, CBS, Hallmark, Bank of America, and Pepsico. She lives in Southern California.
